WHITEBOARD SIDEWALL

The flexible working environment is more important than ever before due to the growing consumerism worldwide, in which means that we are forced to incorporate longevity and circularity.

The working environment has to be created in terms of the development, meaning employees must be prepared to share the workspaces, while the meeting rooms automatically will be integrated at unconventionally spaces. Alternatively stated, the purchasing manager must be imaginative while acquiring new furnitures in order to cover the development with multi functional solutions.

This space dividing sidewall fits perfectly to the development, since the sidewall has whiteboard integrated preferable for an informal meeting with the whiteboard as center gathering place. The majority of the whiteboard sidewall is crafted from repurposed plastic bottles containing a minimum of 70% of recycled material. The same material as used for other of the collections products in order to create connectedness.
